BOISDALE OF BISHOPSGATE

A guide to the Scotch whisky regions

Like wines, the single malts of Scotland are grouped by region although these regions offer a guideline rather than a rule. The regions of Scotland – the Lowlands, the Highlands, Campbeltown and the island of Islay – have their origins in the regulation of licences and duties, but they do also embrace certain characteristics.

The Lowlands

This area tends to produce softer malts, without the peat of the Highlands or the brininess of the coastal malts. The Lowlands is defined by a line following old county boundaries and running from the Clyde estuary to the River Tay. The line swings north of Glasgow and Dumbarton and runs to Dundee and Perth.

The Highlands, Islands and Speyside

By far the largest region, the Highlands embraces wide variations in style. The western Highlands has only a few scattered distilleries, and it is difficult to generalise about their character. If they have anything in common, it is a rounded, firm, dry character, with some peatiness. The far north of the Highlands has several whiskies with a notably heathery, spicy, character, probably deriving both from the local soil and the coastal location of the distilleries. The more sheltered East Highlands and the Midlands of Scotland (sometimes described as the South Highlands) have a number of notably fruity whiskies.

None of these Highland areas is officially regarded as a region, but the area between them, known as Speyside, is universally acknowledged as the heartland of malt distillation. This area, between the cities of Inverness and Aberdeen, sweeps from granite mountains down to fertile countryside, where barley is among the crops. It is the watershed of a system of rivers, the principal among which is the Spey. Although it is not precisely defined, Speyside is commonly agreed to extend at least from the River Findhorn in the west to the Deveron in the east. Within this region are several other rivers, notably the Livet.

The Speyside single malts are noted in general for their elegance and complexity, and often a refined smokiness. Beyond that, they have two extremes: the big, sherryish type, as typified by The Macallan, Glenfarclas and Aberlour; and the lighter, more subtle style. Within Speyside, the River Livet is so famous that its name is borrowed by some whiskies from far beyond its Glen.

BOISDALE OF BISHOPSGATE

Only one may call itself The Glenlivet, only Braes of Glenlivet and Tamnavulin are produced in the valley, and only Tomintoul in the parish. These are all delicate malts, and it could be more tentatively argued that other valleys have malts that share certain characteristics. The Highland region includes a good few coastal and island malts, but one peninsula and just one island have been of such historical importance in the industry that they are each regarded as being regions in their own right.

Campbeltown

On the peninsula called the Mull of Kintyre, on the west coast of Scotland, Campbeltown once had about 30 distilleries. Today, it has only two. One of these, Springbank, produces two different single malts. This apparent contradiction is achieved by the use of a lightly peated malt in one and a smokier kilning in the other. The Campbeltown single malts are very distinctive, with a briny character. Although there are only three of them, they are still considered by serious malt lovers to represent a region in their own right.

Islay

Pronounced "eye-luh", this is the greatest of whisky islands: much of it deep with peat, lashed by the wind, rain and sea in the Inner Hebrides. It is only 25 miles long, but has no fewer than eight distilleries, although not all are working. Its single malts are noted for their seaweedy, iodine-like, phenolic character. A dash of Islay malt gives the unmistakable tang of Scotland to many blended whiskies.

Tasting notes

We have included a brief tasting note for each of the many single malt whiskies on our list which we hope will prove useful to both novice and seasoned drinkers. By their nature, tasting notes are always subjective and so you may not agree with what we say! We are indebted to the many different sources who have provided these notes, not least www.whisky-world.com which provides a wealth of information for the whisky enthusiast. We are lacking a few notes – so all submissions are welcome.

Bin		ABV	50ml
608	Brora 24yrs Dun Bheagan Coastal Highlands, bottled by William Maxwell &amp; Co A cask strength & sherried bottling from the magnificent but closed Highland distillery. Rich, with a good balance between wood & spirit, & a thread of smoke. Originally known as Clynelish, this distillery became a victim of its own success when a new distillery was built alongside it to increase capacity. The new distillery took over the name, & the old distillery was renamed & limped on until being mothballed in 1983. Despite the persistent clamour by malt fans to have Brora re-opened, it now seems impossible for the distillery to go back into production.	48.5%	£42.20
816	The Arran Malt 14yrs Isle of Arran, distillery bottling An initial burst of brine leads onto warming toffee apples and hazelnuts. This is followed by dates, chocolate orange and spiced tea cake. The mouthfeel is overwhelmingly rich & weighty	46%	£14.20
656	Fettercairn 1824 12yrs Eastern Highlands, distillery bottling The nutty, leafy nose has hints of toffee and sherry, perhaps cookie dough. The palate is clean with a sweet maltiness and hints of oatmeal and raisins. A warm, sweet finish.	40%	£12.00
648	Glengoyne 10yrs Highlands, distillery bottling Fresh green apples, toffee & a hint of nuttiness. This is the taste of distilling slower than anyone else in oak casks selected by hand. Improved by barley they dry by air, never peat.	40%	£7.70
854	Glengoyne 12yrs Highlands, distillery bottling Lemon zest, toffee apples & a scent of coconut. Hand-selected sherry & bourbon casks help create this paradise of flavours & rich, golden colour.	43%	£12.20

Islay, distillery bottling

Bold menthol & black pepper slice through the sweet smoke followed by tarry ropes & graphite. As you dip your nose in further, savour the aroma of smoked fish & crispy bacon alongside green bell peppers, baked pineapple & pear juice. An explosion of crackling peat sets off millions of flavour explosions on the tongue: peat effervesces with tangy lemon & lime juice, black pepper pops with sizzling cinnamon-spiced toffee. This is followed by a wave of brine infused with smooth buttermilk, ripe bananas & currants. Smoke gradually wells up on the palate bringing a mouthful of warm creamy cappuccino & toasted marshmallows.

611 Ardbeg Uiegeadail

54.2% £15.20

Islay, distillery bottling

Ardbeg Uiegeadail (pronounced 'Oog-a-dal') is a special vatting that marries Ardbeg's traditional deep, smoky notes with luscious, raisiny tones of old ex-Sherry casks. It's non chill-filtered at high strength, which retains maximum flavour and gives more body and added depth. Ardbeg Uiegeadail was recently voted by the 80,000 strong Ardbeg Committee as their favourite Ardbeg. With whisky this good, who can blame them?

633	Auchentoshan Three Wood Lowland, distillery bottling Sweet butterscotch with prunes, custard, Christmas cake & roasted almonds. The Three Wood expression is matured in three different casks – American Bourbon, Spanish Oloroso sherry then finished in Pedro Ximenez casks	40%	£13.50
786	Auchroisk 10yrs Speyside, Flora &amp; Fauna The style is pungently aromatic on the nose (lemongrass, citrus & a whiff of smoke), & richly flavoured/creamy on the palate, evocative of custard, apple pie & spices.	43%	£11.90
742	Balvenie 12yrs Signature Speyside, distillery Bottling On the nose this is rich & complex with honey, citrus fruits & vanilla oak notes. Rich, honeyed flavours with a hint of sherry fruitiness. A spiciness of cinnamon & nutmeg & a subtle oakiness develop with time.	40%	£11.10
738	Balvenie Single Barrel 15yrs Speyside, distillery Bottling On the nose a fragrant aroma of vanilla, honeyed sweetness, hints of heather & dry oaky notes. The taste is rich & complex, suggestive of years of careful ageing, it has a honeyed maltiness with vanilla, oak flavours & delicate spice notes. The finish is long & complex with a hint of liquorice.	47.8%	£19.20
698	Balvenie Port Wood 21yrs Speyside, distillery Bottling The nose is rich, creamy and malty. 787	Benrinnes 15yrs Speyside, Flora &amp; Fauna The only Speysider to be triple-distilled like a Lowland malt or Irish whiskey, but with a lot more body & character than either of those styles. Impressive stuff.	43%	£12.20
788	Blair Athol 12 Highland, Flora &amp; Fauna A great, but sadly neglected, Highlander. This expression has always tended towards the chunky, sherried style, with spices & oak adding complexity to rich maltiness.	43%	£12.20
735	Bowmore Islay 12yrs Islay, distillery bottling On the nose, plenty of American oak showing lots of vanilla & toasty notes. Smoke is a subtle presence with fresh seashells & seashores. Light cigar smoke/cedar wood, malty & clean. The palate has a rounded feel with a light maltiness, smoke to the back palate, seaweed & turf.	40%	£10.40
741	Bowmore 18yrs Islay, distillery bottling Heather, woodsmoke, & waxy apple peelings, with a citrus fruitiness becoming more evident with time. A broader feel on the mouth than the nose suggests, with more evidence of sherry casks. Intensely floral with more citrus & chocolate.	43%	£23.15
736	Bowmore 25yrs Islay, distillery bottling Full & round, with a gentle softness, the nose has a strong herb-like fragrance over-lying the sherry & peat notes. The palate has plenty of sherry, but surely as night follows day, you will find the oak, the smoke, the brine, the ozone, ending with toffee & hazelnut. The finish is mellow, gentle & warming. Try in front of a peat fire with a Gale Force 8 raging outside.	43%	£74.40

789	Brora 30yrs Coastal Highlands, distillery bottling A delicate, complex & appetising old nose that slowly reveals a balance of buttery softness & acetic sharpness. (Rather like the aroma of a Hollandaise sauce). Develops gently, vanilla alternating with sharper, faintly coastal notes. With time, in true Brora style, there's a pleasing waxiness, & hints of old lavender, as in a dried-out pot-pourri. Water enhances these fragrant notes, & adds the scent of crisply laundered fine linen, while the waxiness becomes heavier (polished church pews). Later, there are traces of roast meat, & that appealing herbal fragrance persists. Palate: At first smooth, sweet & honeyed, then a split-second later drying, with instant smoke & medicinal notes. More savoury notes rise with (a little) water. There's a lightly teeth-coating waxiness. Sweet overall, but with slight saltiness & an intriguing herbal flavour	54.3%	£92.00
690	Bruichladdich 18yr Islay, distillery bottling Matured for 18 years in Bourbon casks & then in Willi Opitz red pinot wine casks. Soft flavours of crème brûlée, syrup, toffee & citrus fruits.	46%	£20.20
692	Bruichladdich 1970 Islay, distillery bottling Luxurious scents of honeysuckle, butterscotch, orange blossom & mint toffee. Warm flavours of fruit, coconut, hazel nut & creamy oak. Heavily textured with a rich & balanced finish, Simply stunning.	44.2%	£130.50
614	Bunnahabhain 12yrs Islay, distillery bottling The 12yr old is less peaty than some Islays, with a superbly long finish. It is gentle & smooth with just a hint of peat & brine with a touch of oiliness & mocha hints on the finish.	40%	£12.60
630	Bunnahabhain 18yrs Islay, distillery bottling Built in 1881 its name comes from the Gaelic, Bunnahabhain (Bu-na-ha-venn), meaning 'mouth of the river', a reference to the Margadale, the river from whose clear spring waters the whisky is distilled. A smooth, slightly sherried dram with all the understated elegance one would expect from the gentlest malt on Islay. The epitome of Bunnahabhain's soft Islay style.	43%	£20.50

THE BOISDALE COLLECTION

Boisdale has been the jewel of the Clanranald sea kingdom on the west coast of Scotland since the 14th century. I always like to believe that my ancestors, even if they did not directly influence the development of malt whisky, at least played a prominent supporting role as significant & prodigious consumers of the “water of life”

RARE VINTAGE PORT

These magnificent fortified wines are, mostly, only available by the bottle. Some of these old Port houses no longer exist; many are absurdly rare. They are opened at the customers risk and will not be refunded in the extremely unlikely event that they are for any reason out of condition. We justify this on the basis that they are extraordinarily good value and it is worth the punt to make tasting history! The provenance for all these wines is excellent and levels good, they should be wonderful.
